We Offer You More Coverage Options

Delivery Errors or Omissions

Delivery errors or omissions can be added to your EMC policy, giving you additional coverage that's not part of the standard general liability coverage. This includes coverage of financial damages your company could be liable to your customers for as a result of an error in the delivery process.

Why You May Need Delivery Errors or Omissions Coverage

A customer's order was incorrectly filled in the warehouse, which was not discovered until the shipment was delivered to the customer. As a result of the misdelivery, the customer suffered a financial loss.

Your delivery truck breaks down, preventing the on-time delivery of products needed for a customer's event that afternoon. Because of the missed delivery, your customer lost out on revenue at the event.

CyberSolutions

CyberSolutions provides the robust protection you need to respond to and recover from a data breach or cyber attack. The policy provides coverage for the costs associated with computer software restoration, data recovery, third-party liability protection, response efforts, defense and liability, and identity recovery for key individuals within your organization.

What CyberSolutions Coverage Can Do

CyberSolutions would have provided the support and protection these companies needed to respond to the following situations:

A burglar stole a laptop from a sales office with data on clients, including credit card numbers. Clients had to place a fraud alert with credit bureaus and monitor their credit reports.

A virus infected the sales and inventory system and stopped it from functioning properly, resulting in loss of income.

A PC was hacked by a disgruntled former employee of a distribution center, causing software programs to crash and data to disappear. The company had to hire an outside IT firm to recover data and a public relations firm to explain the incident to customers.

Visit www.emcins.com/businessins/cybersolutions for detailed information on CyberSolutions coverage. Talk with your EMC insurance agent to determine the right coverage for your operations.

The terms and conditions of your insurance policy, including exclusions, in conjunction with state and federal laws, establish coverage. It is important to check your insurance policy for the specific risks that are covered.

Employment Practices Liability

Employment practices liability coverage, available by endorsement from EMC, pays for the liability damages and defense costs due to employment discrimination, wrongful termination or harassment claims brought by full-time, part-time, temporary and seasonal employees.

Here are some examples of when you might need employment practices liability coverage:

- Wrongful termination, discharge or dismissal
- Harassment, including sexual harassment
- Discrimination (based on age, gender, race, color, national origin, religion, sexual orientation or preference, disability or pregnancy)
- Retaliation
- Wrongful failure to employ or promote
- Violation of an individual's civil rights relating to a wrongful employment act

When Employment Practices Liability Coverage Can Help

A distribution center owner was sued by a long-time elderly employee for wrongful termination.

The employer had to move the employee to other positions in order to accommodate the employee's failing dexterity due to arthritis. The employee continued to have performance issues and was let go after several warnings. The suit was dismissed nine months later, but cost the employer $25,000 in defense costs.
